01 Safety & Prevention

Safety is a key driver in keeping workplace injuries, claims volume, and premiums low. A clear safety program leads to empowered and motivated employees. While most employers recognize the importance of safety, they often struggle to implement a well-designed safety program.

We help design, implement, and improve safety processes and programs with regular communication, tools & systems, training, injury reporting, etc.

02 Early Reporting

Early reporting of an injury (within 24 hours) is imperative to avoid deterioration of an injured worker's condition. Late reporting can result in state and OSHA fines, and can increase claim costs—which impact experience mod and can lead to higher premiums.

We use 24/7 video nurse triage to provide immediate attention no matter where an injury occurs. This proactive response to injuries can reduce costly emergency room visits, and direct initial treatment to a qualified occupational medicine provider.

03 Preferred Providers

It's important to establish a relationship with a high-quality provider near each of your locations. Injured workers benefit from our large network of occupational medicine providers.

We assist in connecting you with providers that truly understand the nature of your business, and help cultivate a strong relationship.

04 Flexible Return to Work

Injured workers who remain at home for extended periods may become disengaged, and might never return to work.

We help you design a successful Return To Work program that gets an injured worker back on the job as soon as they are medically able. This helps you retain experienced workers, and avoid the cost of hiring and training temporary or permanent replacements.

We even work with non-profits to provide meaningful light duty work when you can't.
